ALL SORTS!

—Everybody seems to be decorating.

—There will be no APPEAL issued tomorrow.

—The Grand Marshal expects everyone to be on hand by 9 o'clock this morning.

—Manager Piper telegraphs the APPEAL that the minstrel performance will not begin until 9 o'clock.

—Betting is now quite brisk on the knock-out, and even up that Williams is in the ring at the beginning of the 9th round.

—There is some excitement in Virginia over a strike in Chollar. The wise ones, however, are waiting further developments.

—There will be services at the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning as usual and Sabbath School, but no night service.

—There is nothing in the city today too good for the people of Reno, Virginia City, Genoa, Empire or any other outlying town.

—In no other medical preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases.

—No injurious effects can follow the Use of Ayer's Ague Cure in the treatment of malarial diseases. It contains, besides a specific and unfailing antidote for miasmatic poison; other remedial agents which unite to expel the poisonous humors, purify the system and leave it in a healthy and invigorated condition.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will furnish luncheon for the public today at the store formerly occupied by M. Cohn, as a dry goods store. Lunch including coffee, ice cream, or berries and cake 50cts. Ice cream or berries 25cts. Lemonade and home made candy manufactured by the young ladies of the congregation will also be served. The place will be open day and night.

Stanford's Share of the Spoils.

Senator Stanford has received two packages of turnip seed from the Agricultural Department as his share of the spoils of office. He is anxious that this turnip seed should be put where it will do the most good. He says that in the lot there is some seed of the Egyptian turnip, which he thinks is the most succulent and whole some that grows. There is also a little seed of the French turnip, which he highly recommends, and which he thinks the California agriculturalist will find one of the best varieties. There is some Irish turnip seed in the lot. Stanford has sent the whole assortment to Jesse B. Carr, of Salinas, President of the State Agricultural Society for distribution. The seed is done up in neat packages, and Stanford hopes that farmers who want turnip seed will write to Mr. Carr.

Mrs. Hentschell's Ice Cream.

Mrs. Hentschell has opened an ice cream stand on King street in the rear of Avery's. She will furnish visitors with ice cream lemonade; cake, etc., etc., all day today and this evening. Mrs. Hentschell has the reputation of making the best ice cream in the city.

—The trial of the Anarchists in Chicago excites much interest. The presiding Judge shows commendable firmness, and executive ability and there is a good prospect that the leading cases will be pushed to a speedy and satisfactory conclusion. Parsons, the Anarchist who has managed to keep himself out of the hands of the police ever since the deadly riot, came into court to meet the accusation made against him. It was a piece of bravado intended, of course, to give the impression of resolute confidence in the justice of his cause or in his innocence of any crime. Spies, Lingz, Engel, Schwarb, Fisher, Neebe, Fielden and Parsons are therefore in the hands of Justice. If they get their deserts from the law, as they are likely to, their cases will make altogether an example which will induce emigrants who come to this country to escape starvation in their own, to be satisfied with making a living, and content to leave the reconstruction of the Government to the people of the country.

TODAY'S PAGEANT.

The Biggest Celebration in the History of the Town.

By the time this issue of the APPEAL will have been distributed throughout the city all the small boys of Carson will be filling the air with the war whoop of American liberty and the thunder of gun powder.

Every true American should allow his boy all the fun he wants on the anniversary of American Independence, and a boy who doesn't want to scare somebody or see horses run away, isn't quite made right.

The old folks also feel patriotic and jolly, and like to parade with blue and red sashes and all that sort of nonsense.

Today Carson will have the incomparable military display that has made her famous all over the Coast, with the best sharpshooters in the world in line.

There will be the glitter of fire engines, so bright that the sun's rays will hiss where they hit.

Then will come the elegant Governor's staff; men who sit horses like the Arabs of the desert, and the hoofs of whose steeds are clothed in thunder.

The Gatling gun will be in line, and the pomp, glitter and gleam of the military display will make smoked glass a necessity all along the line.

Then will come the ladies' brigade; dashing horsewomen on foam flecked steeds, bringing forth the plaudits of the multitude.

Sitting in a costly drag will be the intellectual orator and poet, Robert Lindsey of Reno, ready to speak with a tongue of flame, and Rollin Daggett, with his poet's pen tipped with golden tributes to the blushing Goddess of American Liberty, who will also be typified somewhere along the line.

The Reader and Chaplain will be there too, and the procession will wind like a brilliantly spotted serpent of the tropics, through the gorgeous green of Carson's umbrageous thoroughfares.

At night the gilded rockets, coruscating in the blue vaults will paralyze the rural masses from Virginia City, Reno and Genoa, and long after midnight the serpents of fire and the whizzing stars and wheels of living lights will play tag in the zenith, and the whole affair will not cost over $3,000. It will be the biggest blow out ever witnessed in this metropolis.

Charlie Reed.

Tonight the people of Carson will have an opportunity of seeing a minstrel performance put on the stage by the new light in the minstrel circles; Charlie Reed. This gentleman found the minstrel drama in the hands of men who had reached their zenith years ago and were on the wain. Strutters like Emmerson and the howlers and hamfatters of a past decade. Reed lifted the colored drama from the gutter, stripped it of its vulgarity and coarseness and knocked some originality into it. He is a man of infinite resources, a born comedian and looks upon his profession as something more than a cadaverous face smudged with burnt cork. He revolutionized the art in San Francisco and has drawn refined audiences there for more than a year. He brings a splendid company of fine musicians and some excellent lady vocalists. There will be no matinee and Reed will appear for one night only.

Going After the Cooks.

The Truckee Republican, the first paper to agitate the Anti-Chinese question in California is going rough shod after the worthless drunken cooks who are taking advantage of the Anti-Chinese movement to swindle men who are making sacrifices for the cause. The Republican says:

If the employer of a cook, who finds that the cook is worthless, and has made misrepresentations regarding his abilities, will send his name, with the cause of discharge to the Republican, it will be published. Frauds cannot and must not exist. Let every man who gets a worthless hand, send in his name with the facts, and we will publish it and do all we can to deter worthless men who are discharged from obtaining employment elsewhere.

Every person on the Coast who really is anxious to see the Chinese go should unite in blowing up these useless gin soaked dish-washers who come into a new town and demand the wages of a first-class cook.

ALL PRESCRIBED.

John Swinton's Paper has the following:

If President Cleveland wants a second term, he had better join the Knights of Labor; but he can't, being a lawyer.

If Dan Manning wants the nomination, he would do well to join, but he can't, being a banker.

If John Sheridan wants it, let him approach the veil—which, however, he can't pass, being a speculator.

If Stanford wants it, let the "rum-seller of Red Bluff" read the prescribed classes, among whom are liquor dealers, even those who charge "two bits a drink."

If Evans, the gluttoning skeleton, wants it, let him try to cross the portals which no legal foot can touch.

If Edmunds wants it, let him seek to enter an order which outlaws professional politicians.

If a certain ex-President wants a renomination, let him, when applying for admission to the K. of L., write his name under the rule which prohibits the entrance of gamblers.

An Educated Ranch Hand.

A little over a month ago a man came to the writer's ranch and asked for work. He was hired, and went at once into the field. For the first week no one was able to get a word out of him, but it was finally discovered that he was a Norwegian and his name was Hansen. He spoke English with great fluency, and was always grammatically correct. He said he was taught English in his district school in Norway.

One day he was proffered $5, with the idea that he might need tobacco or clothes, but he declined it on the grounds that he had plenty and would rather be paid when his month was up.

It was presently discovered that he spoke German, French and Spanish, and had a smattering of Greek and Latin.

His manners were as perfect as the President of the United States. Last Thursday he said that his month being up he guessed he would go to San Francisco. When paid off he handed a child standing by the door $5, and disappeared.

Here is a man with a splendid education, and a well-bred gentleman, who does not feel above working by the day, and all over this city are men who can scarcely read and write, who had rather sit in front of a saloon and hold down a beer keg than guide a plow at any wages.

Just Cause of Complaint.

The APPEAL has received several communications from business men of this city, regarding the little ice cream and refreshment stands that spring up each Fourth of July, and especially this one.

They complain that the stands only run a day, and only pay license for a day, whereas the regular places of public resort contribute to the city Treasury all the year round.

The regular business houses are asked to contribute all the way from ten to fifty dollars for the celebration, when numbers of people who have not contributed a cent, open out the day before the 4th and divide the custom.

There is just cause for complaint under these circumstances. The city to protect its steady licence payers should see that temporary vendors pay a high licence.

Knights of Labor and the Boycott.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Knights of Labor, in consequence of the recent decisions of the city Courts have decided that in future all boycotts must be carried on secretly and there must be no further parading of men up and down the sidewalks in front of places of business, nor will the open distribution of circulars announcing the boycott be countenanced. When a boycott is declared, a notification to that effect will be quietly forwarded to the several unions and local assemblies. Meantime, money will be raised as a Defense fund to protect those against whom proceedings may be instituted. Caution is enjoined in all future attempts, even by the secret boycott, to break up the business of any firm or corporation. It is also determined to elect men to the next Legislature who will pledge themselves to procure amendments to the existing conspiracy laws so that boycotting may be conducted publicly.
